MARSHALL C. HARRIS, president American Dredging Company.
J. B. GILLENWOOD, Palo Alto; real estate.

ALTHOUGH only two of the 11 men who sat in the box as prospective jurors at the trial of Maury I. Diggs last night still held their places when court adjourned at noon today, the prospect is that before 3 o'clock this afternoon the jury will have been sworn. Today's session was interesting from many viewpoints. One of the jurors was found to have unwittingly responded to a summons issued for his father, who died in 1909. Another was a friend of the Diggs family and acquainted with the two young women concerned. A third had strong prejudices on white slavery cases in general. On a seat partially concealed from view sat Attorney E. C. McCutcheon, chief counsel for the Western Fuel officials, who will be tried by the

Battle Rages at Canton

CITY IS IN HANDS OF FEDERALS

Two Struggling Factions Contend at Gates
of City

HONGKONG, China, Aug. 6.—A battle started today at Canton between the Chinese government troops and the Southern rebels. Two divisions of the east gate of the city and captured it.

TEHAN IS CAPTURED.
HANKOW, China, Aug. 6.—Government troops on August 4 captured the town of Tehan, on Peiyang lake, the principal rebel base in the province of Kiang-Si.

Another defeat was inflicted on the rebels in the province of Hu Peh yesterday when the town of Shavang, on the Han-Kiang, was captured from them.

SOUTHERNERS DEFEATED.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 6.—Northern troops under command of General Hsu inflicted a severe defeat on the Chinkiang garrison yesterday. Terms were made with General Hsu for the re-establishment of the government administration in the town, but late last night, finding the northerners occupying positions on the Chinkiang side of the Changtse river contrary to the agreement entered into with General Hsu, the garrison attacked the northerners and sank several of their

SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN WORK

County School Report Is Prepared for State Official

Alameda County Placed Among Leaders in Education

Showing a substantial increase commensurate with the growth of the cities and outlying districts of Alameda county, the annual report of information pertaining to the schools has been filed with the state superintendent of schools by County Superintendent George W. Frick. Facts and figures are given relating to every department of the educational system. They indicate that Alameda county stands among the foremost in advancement and that every particular relating to the welfare of school children is being looked after attentively.

Among the notable features of the report is a showing that in the manual training, domestic science and other special departments are attracting more interest on the part of students and that accordingly considerable increase in providing for their maintenance has been necessary. Under recent laws it is assured that there will be more kindergartens established both in the cities and in country school districts where directors desire them, and considerable importance is attached to this department by those interested in school education.

Also included in the special studies in the elementary and high schools is instruction along the lines of hygiene and sanitation, the care of children and other features upon which stress has been laid of recent years in the curriculum for young folks.

For the school year of 1912-13 statistics regarding teachers, enrollments, salaries, current expenses and average attendance for the elementary schools are as follows:

Men teachers, 94, women teachers, 248, total, 342, or an increase of 51. The annual salaries paid men was $138,993, while the women received $226,337.

There was an attendance of 18,961 boys and 17,035 girls, averaging 60 in both in daily attendance, 28,404. During the preceding year there were 18,001 boys and 16,311 girls enrolled showing considerable increase on the part of girls. The current expenses for the past year in the elementary schools not including teachers' salaries, was $278,910.

In the high schools there were 68 men teachers and 142 women teachers, a total of 210, with an average salary annually for all of $316,775.

There were 2,445 boys and 2,518 girls enrolled as against 2,332 boys and 2,313 girls in 1911-12. In that year there were 72 men and 124 women teachers. The current expenses for the last year in high schools not including teachers' salaries was $732,757.

There is now a total of 1152 teachers as against a total of 1087 last year.

During the year Superintendent Frick paid 451 visits to the school rooms throughout the county.

Outside of Oakland where nearly $3,000,000 is being expended on new school buildings there have been constructed during the last year the new Hayward high school, a grammar school at Niles, one at Centerville while others are under construction at Alhambra, Mission San Jose and Piedmont. There are six night schools in operation. In Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda.

The kindergartens employ 10 teachers with salaries aggregating $9353, while there is an average daily attendance of 251 pupils.

DOUGLAS, Arizona, Aug. 6.—It is reported here that Guaymas has been captured by the constitutionalists. Confirmation is lacking.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Wilson's action in sending former Governor John Lind to Mexico as a special emissary in the present situation was attacked in the Senate today by Senator Clark of Wyoming, who declared "something else must be done by the administration to guarantee adequate protection to Americans."

Senator Clark presented a resolution for an immediate investigation by the Senate foreign relations committee of American citizens and American property in Mexico.

ARRESTED FOR VIOLATION OF HOTEL ORDINANCE

CARL THERSVILLE, Mo., August 6.—A sheriff here said Waldrop's body was found in his farm dwelling. Mrs. Waldrop is in jail here.

According to her statement, Waldrop had threatened to kill her. She claimed she shot him while he was preparing to carry out his threat.

HAPPY WITH TRIBUNE AUTO WINNER TAKES JOY SPINS

RANKING up the machine, Mrs. Edward J. Mathews yesterday for the new Chalmers "30," won by her in THE TRIBUNE drawing. She has already become an adept in handling the big car and has taken several spins along the boulevards.

Mrs. Mathews, winner of THE TRIBUNE car, is a new arrival in Oakland. She came here a short time ago from Newman and the couple have purchased a home.

The drawing occurred in THE TRIBUNE business office, where a committee composed of a city official, prominent bankers and prominent business men, chose the number which won the prize.

Commissioner of Finance and Revenue John Forrest, J. Y. Eccleston, banker, and W. J. Layman were the judges. They chose the number 19,136.

The new car won by Mrs. Mathews as a TRIBUNE prize is valued at $1750 and the tickets for it were given away with subscriptions. Mrs. Mathews had subscribed, and mislaid her ticket, but when the drawing came off decided, more in the spirit of jest than anything else, to look up the number. When she found her ticket she was astounded to see that she

"I never won anything before in my life," she said.

Alleged Owners Are Hanford and Tevis

Upon the supposition that R. G. Hanford and W. S. Tevis are the real owners of property in Eden township held in the name of M. C. Dunn, G. W. Campbell of San Francisco had Sheriff Barney attach the property yesterday as additional security for a claim of $50,000, which Campbell holds against the two millionaires. Last week Campbell attached deal causing considerable speculation owing to the fact that there was apparently no explanation of the claim.

OAKLAND WILL BE BASE OF SUPPLY

Examination of Talesmen Brings Forth Challenges

The shops and supply department of the Western Electric Company, now in San Francisco will be moved to Oakland next month. The advent of this branch to this side of the bay is considered by local business men one of the most important events of the year in Oakland's commercial history. The place will employ 200 men and will supply the entire Pacific Coast. This new establishment will furnish all the telephone supplies used in Pacific Telephone construction as well as other parts of the electrical goods of a general type used in the West.

The new warehouse and shops will be established in the building erected some years ago and partly used by the company at Hauck and Hollis streets, near the Emeryville town line. This structure will be enlarged and reconstructed. Work on this will begin at once.

"It will be a big thing for Oakland," declared Superintendent Sherman of the stores department. "It means that our entire supply base is to be moved from San Francisco to Oakland. The coast will draw for the electrical goods on the Oakland branch."

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Having felt it necessary to criticize THE TRIBUNE in the past on account of the prominence it gave to the news of crime and scandal, it is only a matter of fairness that I should tell you how greatly pleased I am with its recent issues. Its selection of news is judicious and proportionate; its editorials are strong and ring true; while your fearless advocacy of the higher moral interests of the community is a thing as extraordinary as it is admirable. If you continue on this line you will command the respect of the best element among our citizens and your paper will soon rank among the most representative papers of the country.

I reserve the right to criticize again should occasion require; but, meantime, this much by way of deserved praise.

the Senate should have complete knowledge of the number of the constitutional leaders, the troops they could muster, the extent of the territory controlled and the extent of their equipment.
SHOWS CONSTITUTIONALIST STRENGTH.
Senator Sheppard's report showed that the constitutionalist leaders had followers number between 50,000
and $50,000, and that they were in possession of far more than half of Mexico.
"We are unable to get exact and definite information," said Senator Clark, "about conditions in Mexico.

show that American property is bean citizenship is being dishonored

there, and even officers of the American Government are being shot down.

only in the Senate but elsewhere. The public has a right to know. Something

LUMBER OFFICIALS PRISONERS.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Today's official dispatches from Mexico contained no information of the five officials of the Madera Lumber Company, who are believed in El Paso to have been taken prisoners and held in Chi-lhuahuac. Inquiries are being made.

WILL LEAVE ON BATTLESHIP.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Former Governor John Lind of Minnesota, on his way to Mexico as President Wilson's personal representative, will sail
from Galveston, Texas for Vera Cruz on the battleship New Hampshire tonight. Secretary Bryan asked Secretary Daniels today to provide the battleship.

The gunboat Wheeling, patrolling the lower Gulf coast, has left Tampac-for Progreso. On the Pacific Coast the gunship Yorktown has left Salina Cruz for Mazatlan.

GIVES MEXICAN VIEWS.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Colonel Eduardo Hay, chief of staff of the constitutionalist forces in Mexico, appeared before the Foreign Relations Committee today a detailed account of his views on conditions in Mexico. The constitutionalist movement, he declared, controlled at least two-thirds of Mexico.

Though he made no recommendations, Colonel Hay insisted that intervention by the United States would make things worse, and that any mediation which recognized the government of Huerta was impossible. His idea of the solution was to lift the embargo on arms, so that the constitutionalists could carry on a more active campaign. Then, he declared, troubles in Mexico would soon be settled.

President Wilson Talks on Currency

WASHINGTON, August 6.—President Wilson talked currency to a number of his cabinet today and made it plain he intends to stick to his determination to have a bill passed at the extra session. Senator James told the President today that the Democratic majority bill through Senator Hughes took a similar view. Senator Owen, chairman of the banking committee, pointed out that in the past of the Senate only Senators Elihu Root and O'Gorman were flatly against the measure at this time.
All the other Democrats, he said, but five, were earnestly in favor of the legislation and they, though preferring to defer the task to the next session, would abide by the wishes of the President and the majority.

The President expressed satisfaction
over the action of the House banking committee in voting to report the administration bill.

Action of Secretary of War Sustained

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Major Boecher B. Ray's application for an injunction to prevent Secretary Garrison from promoting another officer in the army pay corps over his head, was denied here today by the district supreme court. Although Ray is in line of seniority the war department in view of measures before a Congressional committee asked Attorney General McRee
today if the President might nominate another man. McRee held that this could be done.

EDUCATED IN IRELAND.

Forty-one years ago Father Barry was born in County Kerry, Ireland and was ordained in 1887 by Rev. Patrick J.
Foley, bishop of Kildare and Leighlin.
Ireland. He received his classical education in the Jesuit schools of his native country. He entered St. Patrick's college there he entered St. Patrick's college there he entered St. Patrick's graduated with honors.

Immediately after his ordination he came to California, where he was appointed by Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco to All Hallows church in San Francisco, where he served as assistant pastor for two years. That was his first experience in the priesthood. His second charge was an assignment to St.
Patrick's church in San Francisco, where he was also an assistant. His third pastorate was that of St. John's church of Healdsburg, where he headed the church for eight years. The local church will mark the fourth in which he has officialized.

There are about 600 families in the congregation of St. Patrick's church, over which he will hold spiritual sway. Father Denis Lane and Rev. Father Edward Maher, who have been conducting the church in St. Patrick's church since the death of Rev. Father J. B. McNally, will assist Father Barry. Father Lane, who secured a leave of absence from St. Ann's church at Colma, San Mateo county,
plans to return to that parish as soon
as Father Barry becomes acquainted with the Catholic congregation. Father Lane has been rector of St. Ann's church for the past fourteen years and was loved by the members of his fold.

In speaking of his college days Father
Barry gave the names of the following priests who were his classmates: Rev.
Father F. J. Geane of St. Francis church, San Francisco; Rev. Father Garvey of San Leandro; Rev. P. Mc-Hugh of St. Jarlath's church of Upper Fruitvale; Rev. Eugene Sullivan of Richmond; Rev. M. Horn of Mountain View; Rev. Denis Lane of San Francisco and

STRIKE OF DOCK HANDS SPREADING

Begins on Duluth, Missabe and Northern When Day
Shift Quits

DULUTH Minn., Aug. 6.—The strike of the employees on the Allouez docks of Superior spread to the Duluth Missabe and Northern docks here today when the day shift quit. The demands of the men have not yet been presented, presumably they will be the same as those of the Allouez workers. The number out is estimated at from 400 to 600.

F. H. Little, a worker for the I. W. W., who has been leading the Allouez strike
has been working to get the Missabe men
to go out. Handbills were a potent factor.
The strike opened here in orderly fashion. The night shift completed their work and the day shift refused to go to work,
stopping work at the docks.

Officials of the company claim the men
signed an agreement made at the beginning of the season to work through the season for the scale of wages specified
at that time.

The demands of the Allouez men,
which probably will be adopted by the Duluth men, also are for $2.75 for days,
$3.30 for nights, $3.50 for Sundays and 25 cents an hour overtime.

Will Be Military Attache in Paris

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—Colonel Spencer Corby, U. S. A., superintendent of public buildings and grounds, military aide to President Wilson, and who served in that capacity at the White House in the Taft administration, is reported to have been selected by President Wilson to serve as military attache at the United States embassy in Paris. Formal announcement, it was said today, would be made in the immediate future. The official at present is on leave recovering from an operation for appendicitis and in this is credited the delay in announcing his appointment.

SECOND DAY OF TRIAL OF DIGGS

Jury Selected After Challenges Have Been Heard by Court

same jury panel and prosecuted
by the same attorneys, taking in the words of the talesmen
and watching everything in the interest of his clients.

"I feel," said the court, in allowing the challenge of the defense "that a man cannot always control his feelings. I am inclined to think that the prejudice Harlow has expressed will influence him."

This left only nine men in the box and the question of peremptory challenges arose. The court said it was his custom to have the challenges exercised without refilling the box, but both defense and prosecution requested that the rule of the men be enforced. This was accordingly done and three more names were drawn.

DODGE CAMERA MEN.

The beginning of proceedings today was enlivened by protest on the part of the defense to the admission of camera men into the courtroom and the defendants, Diggs, Drew Camerata and Charles Harris were kept busy dodging behind their hats in an effort to avoid the glaring artists. Finally the matter was brought to the attention of the court

go, but not until after they had got the pictures, much to the amusement of the audience.

Although Diggs seemed rather unconcerned
yesterday, his face wore an expression of worry and fatigue this morning. It was evident that the long session had somewhat unnerved him and the same evidences of care were visible on the countenances of the other accused men.

A group of women occupied one corner of the courtroom and a larger crowd than that which was assembled yesterday was refused admittance.

Judge Van Fleet has adopted a rule that long questioning twice this morning of Joseph Corbin, who was exposed for the defense, was admonished
that he had transgressed the regulation.
The jurors occupying seats in the box
and some of whom undoubtedly be-sworn later as permanent jurors, are in most instances men of affairs. They come from San Francisco and nearby counties and many of them opened today these were from Oakland, San Jose, San Rafael and five from San Francisco.

NAMES ACCEPTED.

Three names were called these of Martin H. Hays, president of the American Dredging Company of this city, James
B. Greenwood, a well known man of Palo Alto, and Henry Nelson, a well known man of San Francisco. Nelson had talked casually about the case and Harris and Greenwood were acquainted with Atto-ney Woodworth, but neither side seemed to have any reason for accepting the interposition of a challenge for cause against them.

During the examination of jurors B. T.
Brilliant, the wholesale jewelry merchant,
said one of his employees, Benjamin Goodman, was charged with the murder of Ruggers, who paid the penalty with his life in San Quentin. It developed from Brilliant's replies that another one of his employees had gotten into trouble.
"Have you any prejudice against the white slave traffic act?" inquired Sullivan.

"Yes, I have," was the reply, while all of the attorneys sat up and took notice.
"Do you mean to say that you think the government should not enforce this law?" pressed counsel.

"Well it is this way. One of my men was arrested for white slavery and I don't think he got a square deal."
"We don't want to hear about that," interposed the court. "Because you have experience does not mean that you are prejudiced against the enforcement of the law, does it?"

"No sir not exactly that, but I feel that I might have a leaning toward the defendant."

William H. La Boyteaux was accepted
only to be peremptorily challenged by the prosecution and in rapid fire order C.
J. Conklin was chosen.

To make place for them peremptory challenges had been issued on a number of those already in the box. The defense excused C. A. Thayer, Dalphus B.
Brooks and Philip S. Woolsey, while G. F.
Conklin was allowed to go because it was found that he did not belong in the box
"having come in response to a summons issued for his deceased father."

Charles J. Foster, a manufacturer jeweler, said he knew the Diggs family and the young ladies concerned. He has an opinion as to the guilt of the defendant.
"You think he is guilty?"

"I do."

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

Frank L. Edmunds of Berkeley knew
L. B. Diggs, father of the defendant, when the latter resided in Berkeley some time ago. He, however, had no opinion and seemed acceptable. An apparently good juror was let go when Wm. W.
Carson, a lumber merchant and member of a number of local clubs was excused on a peremptory challenge by the prosecution. His release was surprising when it was known that he expressed warm friendship for former U. S. Attorney Thomas H. Selvaage. Attorney Matt Sullivan consulted with Selvaage for a long time before dropping Carson, whom the defense had announced themselves perfectly content with. William S. Bliss indicated that he was perfectly willing to serve, but called attention to the fact that he had been retained in opposition to the government in certain lumber cases.

Judge Van Fleet seemed to think that that would make no difference and counsel agreed with him.

L. B. Diggs sat next his son during the hearing. He seemed much depressed and indeed there was much nervousness in the vicinity of the defendant.

THE LATE SESSION.

Yesterday afternoon a court session began at 3 o'clock. Judge Van Fleet was prepared for rapid fire work and he went at it with a will and forced counsel to be likewise. In consequence when court adjourned at 5 o'clock there were eleven jurors chosen. They were: C. A. Thayer, Lewis, Alpheus B. Brooks (Oakland), E.
A. Christensen, John J. Furber, T. C.
Conklin (Oakland), Philip Woolsey (Oakland), Fred S. Harner (Oakland).

WHIST PARTY IMMENSE SUCCESS

Affair Held to Aid Plans for Bazaar at St.
Leo's

Eager faced whist players crowded
the banquet hall of the Hotel Oakland
last night at the benefit whist party given in aid of St. Leo's parish bazaar to be held in October. Every table was filled and whenever a player dropped out of the game there was always someone ready to take his place and hand. There were not enough tables for all those wishing to play and it was necessary to provide extra accommodations for the overflow. Light refreshments were served between games. The affair was voted a complete success, and plans are already being made to hold another similar event, which will include perhaps bridge and five hundred.

The party was held under the authority of the parish council and the benefit next October, and with the funds obtained last night the far is expected to be one of the most successful ever held in Alameda county.

Promises of more financial assistance
have been received by Rev. Owen Lacey, and the future appears particularly bright for the busy parish in Piedmont.

The reception and floor committee last night was composed of the following: Messrs. J. B. McNamee, Walter Green, Alexander Walters, B. F. Con-
troll, Leo J. McCarthy, J. A. Kenna,
G. Hubert J. Quinn, Mrs. Mary Grace
Dwyer and Supervisor John F. Muilins.

the campus officer Seidel Friedman.

state institution, and claims to be a graduate of St. Mathew's Academy in Burlingame and of the University of California, as well as a member of several of the secret societies and fraternities on the campus.
He is now here for the Agnew authorities.

FIRE THREATENS APARTMENT HOUSE

Fire in a room of the Elkon Apartment
House, 525 Twelfth street, was discovered at noon today by the landlady, Mrs. Eva Herrick, and it was only after ten minutes' busy work by the fire department that the flames were under control. The room in which the fire started is occupied by Rudolf Eichler, an employee of the Western Fuel Company, who was absent at the time. Eichler does not smoke, according to Mrs. Herrick, who advances the theory that the lace curtains of the apartment may have blown out the window in such a way as to be ignited by sparks from a chimney, and that afterward the burning material dropped into the room, being blown back by a strong breeze.

A waste paper basket directly underneath where the curtains were once situated, was entirely consumed by the flames, and evidence of the flames was found along the wall of the room leading to a feather bed in another corner. The pillows and mattress were destroyed, and other damage by smoke and water will bring the loss up to $100. Good work was done by the fire department in keeping the flames from spreading. The building is owned by Louise Bingham.

GIRL TRYING TO SAVE BROTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Sacrificing herself and separating from her family in order to save her two brothers from prison, Opal Skeen, a 20-year-old girl, whose relatives are prominent in Texas and who is herself a personal friend of Governor Colquitt, of that state, appealed to Presiding Judge Dunne today to interpose in behalf of Frank Skeen, now serving a term in San Quentin. The young woman has been here for a year and is living at 361 Oak street.
Frank Skeen is reported as being a consumptive and this is an added
reason for his sister's anxiety to save him. It is necessary for Judge Dunne to sign a request for his release before the state authorities can act, and it is this that she is striving to obtain.

WHO WANTS THIS FINE BIG BABY?

Some Well-to-do Home Should Have This One

There is a fine concert Baby Grand Klimbuehler on exhibition at the Elfers Building, 1448 San Pablo ave.
This is a specially designed fancy Klimbuehler piano, built for exhibition purposes, and the tone
is exceptional and fully up to the high standard maintained by the Klimbuehler factory.

It has been used for exhibition purposes only and is practically like new.
However, we have said that if this piano ever came to Oakland we'd be sure to sell it. For the price it would be appreciated. The price originally was $1250, but for an added incentive
we are going to offer it at $750 and will consider as upright or good square piano in trade as part payment.

ALBATROSS TO BE REPAIRED

Will Undergo Renovation Costing $40,000 at Local Engineering Works

To undergo repairs to the extent of $40,000 the fishery steamer Albatross of the bureau of fisheries under the department of commerce of the United States government pulled into the inner harbor late yesterday afternoon and berthed at the United Engineering Works. It is expected that the trim vessel will be at the local yards
for a period of about three months.
The Albatross for the past two years
has been engaged in hydrographical service in the San Francisco bay and with the exception of a few trips to the Farallones has been in that harbor the entire time. Lieutenant-Commander H. B. Soule, U. S. N., is in charge of the vessel. The other United States navy officers aboard

are J. C. Thompson, Paymaster H.
Shaw, Chief Boatswain J. Clancy, Chief Machinist A. D. Devine and Boatswain N. R. King.

The scientific staff consists of Dr.
F. E. Sumner, naturalist; W. Schmitt, scientific assistant; E. C. Johnston, fishery expert, and R. A. Coleman, secretary.

Although it has not been definitely decided, government advisers have several tentative plans for the vessel's

with her local work. At present it appears as if the craft would be demoted to duty off San Diego. Deep sea investigations are very necessary
in this section of the coast and it is probable that this will be the first actual reconnoitering cruise service.

The government is desirous of obtaining concrete information in regard to the commercial value of halibut, "and I expect that orders will soon be forthcoming to that effect. Unless something unforeseen occurs we will go up to Alaska next summer, which previous to our work in San Francisco bay was one of our yearly duties."

The Albatross is one of the most thoroughly equipped vessels for scientific water work in the world, and the government has ordered that the repairs be rushed.

A majority of the officers of the vessel reside in Oakland with their families.

GRAND BALL FOR DEPOT OPENING

Plans are progressing rapidly for the celebration which is to mark the opening of the new Southern Pacific University avenue depot at Third street on August 16. Report of arrangements to date was made at a meeting of the West Berkeley Improvement Club last evening at Columbus school, which forty members and visitors attended.

The celebration committee was instructed to prepare a souvenir program which should consist of at least twelve pages. The club also went on record as favoring a grand ball to be given in Spanish Hall on the night of Saturday, August 16, which is the night of the day of the opening of the new depot.
The object of the ball is to have a fitting finale to the day's festivities.

The committee is working with a similar committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturers' Association, and it is the intention of these three organizations to have a memorable time in Berkeley on the 15th of this month. There will be speakers from each of the three organizations, a brass band, automobile parade and decorations
throughout the city.

A communique was ordered sent to the Board of Education asking for an electric light in front of the Columbus school house.

Race Segregation Is Upheld in Maryland

BAITIMORE, Aug. 6.—The Maryland
Court of Appeals, in preliminary opinion handed down shortly before midnight
last night, held "that the mayor and city council of Baltimore may, in the exercise of their police powers, validly pass an ordinance for the segregation of the white and colored races without conflicting with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States or of the state of Maryland."

This opinion, however, declares invalid
on technical grounds an ordinance approved by the mayor in 1911.
It was announced that an ordinance
will be drawn up to meet the legal ex-actions.

CRUISER CALIFORNIA PLACED IN DRY DOCK

VALLEJO, Aug. 6.—The cruiser California steamed up the Mare Island channel yesterday afternoon and was towed
into the dry dock which had been prepared for its reception. The California is in command of Captain A. S. Halsey, and comes here direct from Puget Sound,
having participated in the Polatch celebration of Seattle.

The stay of the cruiser at this yard
will be limited, and what repair work
is necessary will be rushed, as the vessel is scheduled to leave on Monday for San Francisco, where it will meet the cruiser Pittsburgh from Guaymas. The two armored cruisers will engage in tar-

completed the California will relieve the

take charge of the California as soon
as target practice is completed.

BURGLARS ESCAPE IN HAIL OF LEAD

Gang Covers Retreat in Pistol
Fusillade With Police Officers

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—A rattling fire of pistol shots resembling the crack of musketry awoke the residents of the Protrero section of the city
shortly before 2 o'clock this morning,
and sent the reserve forces of Company H of the police department on a suspicious quest for the real culprits.
Meantime Patrolmen Harry Reilly and J. Welch were having their hands full with a gang believed to be the band
of cracksmen which have been operating all over the city, and in a pistol battle, which resulted in a narrow escape on the part of Welch, the men succeeded in getting away through the lumber yard.

Reilly and Welch were patrolling their regular beats, and met at the corner of Mariposa and Kentucky streets. Observing three men acting in a suspicious way, they met and they concealed themselves in a doorway. The trio, however, had seen them and began to move off. At this the officers approached and commanded them to halt. Without a word one of the suspects whipped out a revolver and began firing to cover a dash for liberty on the part of the gang. Both officers pulled their own pistols, and in the pursuit which followed more than a score of shots were exchanged.

The burglars ran for the lumber yard, and for two hours the officers dodged in and out in an effort to capture them. When the armed suspects first opened fire the bullets whistled
close by the head of Policeman Welch,
and the desperate character of the men was quickly realized.

At daybreak upper office men, who had been detailed to investigate, found a hammer and chisel in a vacant lot near where the men were first seen.

Infected Many Who Had Lung Trouble

Those who suffer from Lung Trouble are generally troubled with night sweats, loss of strength and little or no appetite. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is a medicine which has been most successful in restoring night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite, and many who have taken it declare it saved their lives. In the case of what it did in this case:

"Dear Sir: For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse. I had night sweats and pain in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my disease consumption. Not being satisfied, I was recommended by the physicians of the Polytechnic Hospital, they also confirmed my trouble, and I was ordered away for treatment. My cough would not allow me to go until I had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks, I had reached the point where my cough had ceased, my chest felt better, my appetite became good and easy, fever left me, and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been for twelve years. I strongly recommend it."

REVOLVERS FOR HIM WILLIAMS IN DUEL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 3.—In response Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi is one of the mildest and best natured and most inoffensive men imaginable, although in debate on the floor of the Senate Mr. Williams is shown that he has some fire in his makeup. No one in his hands and making a noble effort to prevent an explosion that might disturb the dignity of the committee room. After the senator resumed his seat one of those present asked the lad the cause of his internal disturbance.

"It's mighty hard to keep from laughing when you hear anything like that," he replied. "I was doing my best to keep my face straight while the senator praised the water. It's in the old bottles, but every morning I haul them to the faucet, fill them with Potomac river water and use 'em."

SUCH SWEET SORROW.

Frank D. Hester, chief of a subdivision of the division of war claims of the pension bureau, is at his desk again. Commissioner Saltzgeber decided that the ninety days' suspension he had imposed upon Hester was too severe for such a trifling indiscretion as Hester had committed.

In the latter subdivision was a pretty temporary clerk who had completed her work and was about to leave. She had been a favorite, and as she was leaving she made a round of the room and plant, and a smacking kiss upon the mouth of every woman clerk.

During the day of her now former

"In Rome do as the Romans do," Williams counseled himself. Therefore he promptly accepted the challenge.

Being the challenged person, he had choice of weapons. The German was greatly disturbed when the American's second said that the usual dueling device would not be used. The Yankee fire-eater would fight with United States army revolvers.

This was unheard of, and the German the next morning was a wreck. His hand

The principle then shook hands and became fast friends.

SOURCE OF INNOCENT MERRIMENT.

Embarrassed situation is gone, gone are the men who used to aid the senators in the marble Senate chambers to reach a state of mental peace. The business many little comforts are removed by economy, and the condition of United States senators is in these days deplorable from the viewpoint of senators.

But here is the poor fellow lying in a recent committee hearing on a blistering hot day, a senator stepped over to a water cooler. As he approached the cooler, he saw a man sitting there.

"Well, well," he ejaculated, "I thought all this, too, was gone."

He poured three glasses of water and drank them eagerly.

"Fine," he commented. "This is handy water. The best I ever tasted. There's nothing like this from Spain."

A page near by at all appearances was suffering from hay fever, or something of the sort. He was holding his face

THEATER PROPRIETOR FIGHTS DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—William H. De Pew, proprietor of the Y. Village theater of Mill Valley, and his wife, Olive E. De Pew, faced each other yesterday morning in Superior Judge Hunt's court in a contested action for divorce.

De Pew alleges that she fell in love with Alexander Gilmore, one of his employees, whom she promised to marry as soon as she got rid of her husband. De Pew asserts in addition that she hired a deaf and dumb woman to take care of the children and that she caused a sensation by kidnapping her youngest child from her husband's custody. The next day she returned it to her father-in-law. The trial of the case was continued for two weeks.

Children's teeth should be filled and put in a healthy condition. You owe this to your children. Remember, the healthier the child, the brighter the mind, and bad teeth mean poor digestion and consequently ill health. Don't wait until the teeth ache, fill the cavities when they are small. "A stitch in time saves nine," and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

I make a specialty of children's teeth and can fill teeth without using the boring machine. If your child's teeth are irregular, now is the time to have them straightened before they are too firmly set. Examination free. This is no dental company. I have been in Oakland for years, running just one reliable office which is endorsed by some of Oakland's most prominent citizens.

HOUSE HUNTING TROUBLES OVER

Ambassador Gerard Says He Has Found Suitable Residence

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—James W. Gerard, United States Ambassador to Germany, with his wife and her sister, the Countess Anton Sigrav, left for Hamburg today and will embark on the America for the United States tomorrow. Mr. Gerard, aided by the newspaper version of his house hunting difficulties succeeded in finding two suitable houses for his residence in Berlin. One of them is in the aristocratic Tiergarten district and the other nearer the center of the city. The rental of each is about $19,000 annually. Either one of the residences contains ample room for the ambassador's offices and private quarters as well as for entertaining purposes.

Mr. Gerard half deciding on taking a lease of one of the houses will discuss the situation with President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. George Von L. Meyer, formerly secretary of the navy, who arrived last evening and was staying in the same house as the Gerards conveyed to Mr. Gerard his sympathy over the Ambassador's house hunting difficulties, telling him he had been subjected to a similar experience while he was ambassador in Rome and in St. Petersburg.

Wonderful Blood Remedy

Brings Health to a Host of Sufferers.

The remarkable action of S. S. S. in the blood is given impetus by a letter received from Earl C. Cook, 708 South Center St., Bloomington, Ill. He says: "I suffered several months and took treatment here, but obtained relief only for a few days at a time. Becoming doubtful of result, I quit the doctors, and there was marked improvement from the start. I used thirteen bottles of S. S. S. and was entirely cured. My blood was in a dreadful condition, and I was a host of sufferers."

Wonderful recovery.

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodine, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 122 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

ESTIMATE ESTATE AT $100,000,000

Late A. N. Brady's Holdings Put on a Par With Late J. P. Morgan's

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Although the provisions of the will of the late Anthony J. Morgan, who died last week, are not yet known, the size of his estate, unofficial estimates are published here today placing Mr. Brady's wealth practically on a par with that of the late J. P. Morgan. A former adviser to Brady is quoted as placing his estate at $75,000,000 as a minimum estimate and as adding that it might prove to be in excess of $100,000,000. A recent report by a state transfer tax attorney made a semi-official estimate of Mr. Morgan's estate at the same aggregate figure, $100,000,000. Mr. Morgan died at so much greater place in the public eye, however, than Mr. Brady or many others of great wealth, that the reports of the Brady fortune being on a par with Mr. Morgan's have occasioned surprise even in Wall street, where he was best known.

Mr. Brady's investments lacked the transient factor which made Mr. Morgan's wealth so well known. It is said that he had over $50,000,000 in tobacco alone. His holdings of Brooklyn Rapid Transit stock amounted to about eight million dollars in round figures. In Tennessee and Georgia power properties he is said to have had investments worth $10,000,000, and during the last few years he had put between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 into Japanese lighting plants, especially in Tokyo.

NEW COUNTERFEIT IS PUZZLE TO EXPERTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—The most dangerous counterfeit of the gold half-eagle experts say, that has ever appeared in San Francisco, was taken over the counter on Monday at the Bank of California. At the close of the day's business two such spurious coins were discovered. Both were of the so-called Roosevelt issue, with the Indian's head countersunk and the eagle in "overalls."

William Ralston, sub-treasurer, had one of the coins sent to the United States mint for assay, which showed $2.18 in gold, some silver and copper. The genuine $2 gold piece contains no silver.

MAKE ASCENT OF WHITE HORN PEAK

Find Record of Only Previous Victor, Mountaineer Konrad Kain

MOUNT HOBSON, B. C., Aug. 3.—On the same day Konrad Kain, with his party of Canadian Alpine Club climbers were returning victorious from the ascent of Robson peak, Walter Schaefelberger was leading a party of three up the White Horn peak, the highest peak in the White Horn Range. The climbers made the round trip, Bivouac to Bivouac, in 16 1/2 hours.

The only previous ascent made was by Konrad Kain, the guide who piloted the party to the conquering of Mount Robson and who reached the summit of White Horn also. Yesterday's victors found the cairn built by Kain on the "iron" height, and within a record enclosed in a match box, which read:

"Konrad Kain, guide, Vienna, Austria. Climbed in storm August, 1911."

The party, which included C. B. Sissons, Toronto, B. Westmoreland, Victoria, and B. S. Darling, Vancouver, brought this record back to camp.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATORS SENTENCED FOR BRIBERY

State Senator B. A. Smith was given a sentence of five years and six months, and Delegate David Hill five years. The five men were disqualified for life from holding any public office.

BEAR RAISING NOT SO EASY AS IT LOOKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—J. J. Klotterich of 2495 Polson street makes a practice of raising bears for the trade. They are supposed to be tame and docile, else "Broncho Billy" as G. M. Anderson, the moving picture magnate is known, would have no use for them.

This morning, however, when Klotterich was placing one of the bears in a cage to ship to Anderson at Niles, the animal bit off a portion of his finger. He went to the Mission Hospital for treatment.

AGENCY COMPANY DIRECTORS LIABLE

Must Answer for $480,000 Obtained Through Alleged Fraud

CHATTANOOGA, Aug. 6.—Eight directors of the Great Southern Agency Company, Tennesseeans of prominence and high standing, and the promoter of the company, C. J. Herbert, were held liable yesterday by a circuit court jury for approximately $480,000 said to have been obtained fraudulently through sale of stock in the company.

The Agencies Company was organized in 1907 with the purpose of later organizing a life insurance company. The stock was sold on the promise of great dividends, two of which, it was alleged, were paid out of funds obtained by the sale of stock instead of from earnings. The concern went into bankruptcy when the stockholders became suspicious and threatened suits to recover their money.

The jury found that the stock subscriptions were fraudulently procured and by direction of the court, charged the liability to Herbert, the promoter, and the following directors:

Major A. W. Willis, who was postmaster at Nashville, Tenn., for twenty years; Nathan W. Hale, former congressman from the Knoxville district; Dr. W. D. Haggard, professor of surgery at Vanderbilt University; John E. Early, Nashville manufacturer; Seizing Fort, president of the Northern Bank of Clarksville, Tenn.; E. C. Morrow, tobacco dealer, Clarksville; H. C. Papineau and C. W. Stevenson.

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

COUNTERFEITERS' DEN ON ISLAND

Secret Service Men Arrest Man Alleged to Be One of Gang

ALBANY, Ore., Aug. 6.—L. F. Morris, a sign painter 28 years old, was arrested here today by federal secret service operatives on a charge of belonging to a gang of counterfeiters that had operated a plant for some time, using silver coins on Kiglers Island, in the Willamette river six miles above Corvallis. Several weeks ago the government was informed that counterfeiters had been working on the island and secret service men found several counterfeit dollars and coins of lesser denominations in a cabin where the Morris, who has been working at his trade here for the last three months, is said to have been connected with the scheme. He said he became involved in some experiments while cutting wood on the island last winter and told the detectives that all the counterfeiters were amateurs who were experimenting and that none of their product was put in circulation. The secret service men believe Morris' assertion that the counterfeiters were experimenting, but they think some of the best coins they made were passed in Corvallis. Three counterfeit dollars were found in Morris' shop after his arrest but he said he had kept them only as curios. Morris, who is single, has resided in Oregon and Washington the last six years, living most of the time at Hood River, Ore.

WOMEN INSIST ON

LOOTING PLUM ORCHARD

Claim Telegraph Company's Permit to Pick Fruit Along Lines

"Plug us Full of Holes" Is Invitation to Irate Owners of Land

HAYWARD, August 6.—"You can plug me full of holes," a defiant, Elmer woman is alleged to have said yesterday, as she and eight other women accompanied by two men, loaded their buggy with plums from trees on the ground of Mrs. Roxana Butler, on Hayward avenue. A pistol shot fired by Mrs. Berniera, daughter of Mrs. Butler, failed to scare the plum pickers from the trees and the party who had come up in a mission from a telegraph company whose telegraph poles ran through the grounds, to come and pick the fruit off the trees. A scene followed Mrs. Butler's endeavor to persuade the buggy party to leave her fruit trees and make their departure, and after the women refused to budge even after Mrs. Berniera fired a pistol shot, the assistance of A. W. Williams of Cherry land was summoned by Mrs. Butler and the visitors were persuaded to leave, although they carried off a large quantity of plums and declared they would get a written order from the telegraph company to come back and pick as many plums as they pleased off the trees.

Mrs. Butler told the story of the occurrence, which created quite a stir in the neighborhood. "My attention was attracted first of all," said Mrs. Butler, "by the buggy load of women—there were eight of them—accompanied by two men, halting opposite the front of my house. The whole party entered the garden and, without delay started in to pick the egg plums off my trees and put them in the buggy."

CLAIMED PERMIT. "I went out to see what the women were doing and they said they had come from Elmhurst and had been given permission by a telegraph company whose poles ran through the grounds, to take the plums. I told them they were my trees, but they insisted that they had a right to the plums and continued pulling off the fruit. A young boy they had with them mounting to the top of one of the trees and throwing down the plums. I called to my daughter, who came out with a pistol, intending to frighten the women away. My daughter fired a shot into the ground, but this had no effect on the intruders, and one woman, who acted as spokesman, stepped out in front and invited us to 'plug her full of holes.'"

"The woman, continued Mrs. Butler, 'continued to pull the plums and, finally, when we summoned Mr. Williams, drove off with a large quantity of plums in the back of their buggy. I tried to get Deputy Sheriff Soares to intercept the people as they made their way down East Fourteenth street, but he was not in at the time.'"

PLANS ACTION. Mrs. Williams said she did not know what action she would take in the matter, but thinks the plum pickers can be traced from the description she can give. Williams thinks that the Elmhurst party may have had a permit to pick fruit on some other ground, but did not know how they could have been given permission to take the fruit from Mrs. Butler's trees without Mrs. Butler's consent. According to Mrs. Butler, the women declared they had specially hired the buggy in order to come to Hayward to pick the plums.

MERCHANTS SAY LAW FOR SPEEDERS IS DRASTIC

HAYWARD, August 6.—Business men of Hayward, it is stated, intend to lay a complaint before the Board of Town Trustees at the meeting this evening, in which it will be shown that the enforcement of the speed law is keeping numbers of motorists from passing through Hayward. Since the appointment of a deputy by Marshal Charles Schilling, motorists have been arrested and fined almost every day, although the number of arrests has been falling off of late.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Conger Bros. of St. Paul, Minn., say: "Fletcher's Castoria is certainly full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

C. G. A. Loder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."

The Scholz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."

Hosland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."

Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."

Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."

D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ill., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."

The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

JUSTICE FOR LAWBREAKERS

District Attorney Hynes has made Jack Heaney and the band of card sharps who rendezvous in his joint sing a different tune from the one they sang at the beginning. From ridiculing the law and its officers and expressing their contempt for the charge of skinning boys under age in saloon card games, they have turned to laughing on the other side of their mouths. At first they treated the matter with hilarious contempt. Now they are supplicating for mercy and making all sorts of excuses.

The change of front is easily explained. Heaney and the gamblers who ply their trade in his saloon have discovered that the District Attorney is in earnest and means business. To their dismay they have learned that he cannot be intimidated or cajoled, nor jeered into winking at their performances. He proposes to enforce the law and will not be deceived by their excuses.

The Assistant District Attorney, Phil M. Carey, is no less fearless and honest-minded, no less insensible to the ridicule of saloonkeepers who violate the law and men who live by prey upon the vices and weaknesses of boys and unsophisticated men, and no less mindful of the duty he owes society and the obligations imposed by his oath of office. Like Mr. Hynes, Mr. Carey refuses to be deceived by transparent entreaties or apologetic excuses which if accepted would render the law a complete nullity.

When it was demonstrated beyond dispute that the Masters boy, a minor, had lost money stolen from his employer in a card game that has long been a regular feature of Jack Heaney's saloon, the defense set up was that the boy's appearance indicated that he was of age. Yet the boy's father testified that his son was allowed to gamble and lose his money after the elder Masters had notified the proprietors of the places in which he had played that the boy was under age. District Attorney Hynes has created consternation in the gamblers' camp by pointing out that the excuse offered has no standing in law. Persons who contribute to the delinquency of a minor cannot evade the legal penalty by saying they were deceived by the minor's appearance, or even by his statements. If such a plea should be accepted, every person who consorts with a girl under the age of consent would excuse himself by saying he was deceived by her appearance or by her representations. Similarly a gambler brought to book for skinning a boy in a card game could make the defense that he was misled by the lad's appearance. Thus the whole question of enforcing the law would rest upon what the culprit was pleased to give as his impression of the age of the minor to whose delinquency he had contributed.

It follows, therefore, that the integrity of the law cannot be made to depend upon what crooks may say their impressions were. Men cannot be permitted to rob a boy of his money or a girl of her virtue on the plea that he was deceived by appearances. To accept such a plea would be to throw the door wide open for the commission of the very offenses which the law was enacted to punish and prevent. The District Attorney shows his good sense and his faithfulness to public duty by refusing to accept an excuse which can be manufactured to fit any occasion, and which is never offered in good faith. He recognizes that to accept such a plea would be to violate the spirit and letter of the law and to grant immunity to men who rob and debauch children. He will do his duty, hence the Heaney crowd are not laughing and snapping their fingers at him any more.

The people of Alameda county are to be congratulated. The law means something when administered by a man of courage and determination, solicitous for the welfare and good name of the community, and whose ideas run in the channel of sincerity, moral cleanness and high-minded zeal in the discharge of his duty.

The Mirage of Cheap Money.

The ideas of such eminent authorities on finance as Sockless Simpson of Kansas, Calamity Weller of Iowa and our own Carl Browne are again coming to the fore. Those masters of political economy contended that abundance and prosperity would be assured if the government would only print paper money in unlimited quantities and lend it to all who wanted to borrow on farm produce stored in warehouses.

The same thing is now being advocated in Congress. Some of the financial giants of that body are attempting to fasten a provision in the Glass-Owen currency bill compelling the reserve banks to lend money on warehouse certificates. They frankly say their object is to enable the farmers to store their produce in government warehouses and borrow government money on it at a low rate of interest. In their opinion this would enable a rabble of farmers to defy the bankers and raise prices by locking up all the available surplus of any agricultural commodity in government warehouses, the government furnishing the money to finance the "corners."

It does not occur to the advocates of this enticing scheme that there are people other than farmers to be considered, or to consider the consequence of throwing the finances and business of the country into utter confusion. Every avenue of industry and every line of business would be disturbed by creating an artificial system of values and a method of doing business setting aside the principle of supply and demand.

However, the notion that something can be created out of nothing is as old as the human race. It is born of laziness, unreason and credulity, and appeals mightily to the order of the day that conceives cheap money to be the panacea for all ills. Strange to say, it finds its most ardent believers in those that have no collateral of any kind to deposit as security. Such cannot understand the primal fact of human existence, namely, that everything worth having is the product of labor, and the value of one kind cannot be increased unless exchanged for the value of another kind without somebody being robbed.

MILITANTS AT HOME

'Ooray, Lizzie! Suffrage is defeated again! —NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

The Wheatland Affair.

It is doubtless true that the inflammatory teachings of I. W. W. agitators were mainly responsible for the threatening and aggressive attitude assumed by the striking hop-pickers at Wheatland, still there is reason to believe that the sheriff and his posse displayed a lack of tact and discretion in dealing with the situation. An excited crowd smarting under a real or fancied wrong is easily goaded into acts of violence. We do not wish to pass judgment without knowing the precise facts, still we are of the opinion that bloodshed would have been avoided if more diplomacy had been used. Calm judgment and good temper are effective in quelling riot and disorder, but unhappily, peace officers frequently approach a disorderly crowd in anything but calmness and good temper. The known facts of the affray indicate that the sheriff was somewhat hasty in applying force. We do not say that this was not in the line of his duty, but it tended to provoke resistance rather than allay excitement. The strikers were wrong in attempting to carry their point by violence and they were doubly wrong in resisting officers of the law, but it is quite likely that the armed clash would not have taken place if the officers had gone about their business with coolness and tact, employing persuasion rather than the forcible arm of authority.

Applying unnecessary force to an angry and excited crowd is like touching a lighted match to powder. It is not likely that the strikers had resolved to fight the officers, or that the shooting was premeditated. Had they been temperately advised it is altogether probable that they would have come to their senses and consented to obey the law. But a rash show of force touched passions already inflamed to fever heat like a spark to tinder, and a bloody affray was the consequence. The incident is a tragic illustration of the evil accomplished by the I. W. W. agitators who make it their business to bring on conflict wherever there is a wage dispute. They teach rebellion against the law and urge all who will listen to them into acts which inevitably lead to violence and bloodshed.

Senator Fall's eagerness for the United States to intervene in Mexico is revealed. He owns valuable properties in three states in Mexico and wants Uncle Sam to send an army down there so he can make his estates profitable. A good many others have the same selfish, sordid conception of national duty. The cost to the people and the effect on our national policy in the future are not given a thought by persons like Senator Fall.

The New York Herald, which sneezes every time King George takes snuff, is in a fright because Secretary Daniels proposes to send some battleships into Pacific waters. The Herald thinks the fleet is exclusively for the protection of New York. As it would yield every dispute raised by an old world power, a navy is a superfluity. Still the Herald wants a big one kept cruising off Long Island for show and for the profit of New York tradesmen.

AT THE BALL GAME

The baseball game between the Athletics and the Yankees, played yesterday at the Polo Grounds, was a most interesting and exciting contest. The Athletics, under the leadership of their manager, Connie Mack, put up a fine fight, but the Yankees, led by their manager, John McGraw, emerged victorious. The game was characterized by excellent play on both sides, with many精彩 plays and a high-scoring finale. The Athletics' pitcher, Cy Young, was particularly noteworthy for his strong performance, but the Yankees' batting lineup was too strong for him. The game ended with a final score of 10-7 in favor of the Yankees. The crowd was estimated to be one of the largest ever seen at the Polo Grounds.

MANSFELDT AGAIN TRIES MARRIAGE COURT-MARTIAL HAS TAME ENDING

Bride Is Miss Hazel Helma Hess, Beautiful San Jose Girl

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Hugo Mansfeldt, pianist, friend and pupil of Liszt and one of the noted teachers of America, has been married for the fourth time. The bride is Miss Hazel Hess, a beautiful and talented San Jose girl, who for many years has been a pupil of the bridegroom. They were married last evening at Grace Pro-Cathedral, Dean W. Gresham officiating.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Hess of San Jose. She is noted for her musical ability. Friends and close relatives of the pair attended the ceremony.

This marriage follows an extremely sad story of the musician's last marriage. The third Mrs. Mansfeldt, who was Miss Elsie Mims Loane, died last April 2, aged 31, in Tunis, on the edge of the Sahara desert. She had been suffering from intense nervousness caused by insomnia, and at her own desire she was buried with the rites of the Mohammedan religion, which she had embraced.

Some time ago she was stricken with a fatal illness, and she died in the "Garden of Allah," which she repeatedly visited, and through the vast, tawny, temper-tured solitudes of which she penetrated into far, strange places where white women had never been before. For nearly five years prior to her tragic death, the late Mrs. Mansfeldt made only occasional visits to San Francisco and her husband.

In April of this year the last chapter of her bizarre adventures was closed by her tragic death in Tunis, where she drank poison, and where her body, with her husband's consent, was buried with Mohammedan ceremony.

Her property was left to Aloise M. Gebhard, Charles M. Gebhard and Dorothy Gebhard, her husband to receive the income during his lifetime.

now on a honeymoon in the south.

The facts disclosed at the court-martial and the war department's clever move in insisting on a public trial robbed the case of the importance the Socialists had expected. It was only some quill-drivers babbling over their beer.

The court's decision asserts that the most unfortunate feature of the case is the unjust suspicion cast upon German officials and the army. The defendants, it says, were correct in believing that the Krupp Company possesses secrets which cannot be entrusted to any other firm. There was no excuse, however, for their criminal acts. It added that the previous good character of the defendants and the fortunate fact that no secrets had reached foreign hands would be considered as mitigation of their offenses.

Chief Clerk Pfeiffer of the ordnance department and Non-Commissioned Officer Schmidt respectively received sentence of six months and two and a half months imprisonment, while Non-Commissioned Officer Drease must serve three months in the stockade. The court gave notice of appeal.

BIRDSELL HELD TO FACE FORGERY CHARGE

Raymond Birdsell, alleged forger, who passed checks on Oakland merchants and saloonmen, was held to answer this morning before Judge R. R. Tappan in the police court for a charge of forgery. Don't Pay A Dentist to Hurt You

When you get your teeth fixed by a dentist who has no means of preventing pain, you not only have to endure torture of the worst kind, but you have to pay for it besides.

It is not enough to have to suffer from toothache, without being forced to pay for the privilege of undergoing further torture in the dental chair.

I say don't patronize any dentist who makes you suffer. If your present dentist can't fix your teeth painlessly, then quit him and find one who can. You won't have to look very far. I'm here ready to show you that my remarkable new discovery, Terrysthesia, actually does away with the pain in all dental operations.

Terrysthesia is the only known method of eliminating pain that has proved to be perfectly safe and at the same time thoroughly effective in every case. It acts upon the nerves of the teeth, numbing them.

patient remains wide awake all the time, yet he is unable to feel the slightest twinge of pain while his teeth are being drilled into, filled, crowned, treated or extracted.

No matter what condition your teeth are in, nor how sensitive they may be, I'll guarantee to fix them without causing you one moment of discomfort. You won't be put under the influence of dope or dangerous drugs when you come to me. Terrysthesia is all I use, and it is absolutely harmless.

bridge work know about my new advanced system of teeth restoration there would be very few of those antiquated contrivances in use today.

Refr. Alveolar teeth stay in the mouth permanently, just like real teeth. They cannot work loose or fall out, because they are constructed on a new principle, which overcomes the bad features of ordinary false teeth.

Any person who has two or three sound teeth left in his jaw can have the missing ones replaced by my Ref. Alveolar method. The work of installing the teeth is not painful, and it requires very little of the patient's time. Be sure to investigate this method, even though you have lost only a few teeth.

Call and see me if you need dentistry of any description. Every bit of work I do is guaranteed to give satisfaction, and I stand ready at all times to make the guarantee good. Bear in mind, also, that my prices, as well as my dental operations, are painless.

Consultation, examination and estimate free to everyone.

NEW 1914 CADILLAC HAS ARRIVED

GRACEFUL LINES ARE FEATURE

W. L. WEBBER AT THE WHEEL, AND MEMBERS OF THE DON LEE SALES FORCE, IN THE NEW 1914 CADILLAC CAR WHICH ARRIVED IN OAKLAND YESTERDAY.

ED. EDWARD ORINSON

The much heralded 1914 Cadillac car is here. The first of the new models arrived in Oakland late yesterday and today the Oakland house of the Don Lee organization is crowded with visitors all eager to inspect the latest type of the Cadillac.

There is an opinion that the Cadillac is the best car for the hard driver, and it is ever turned out by the Detroit factory. The car is finished in dark green, with a black top and a black interior.

The Cadillac is so arranged that it can be dropped to the steering post by releasing a spring, and thus permit access from the right side of the car without touching the series of cotillions. The Cadillac lighting system is arranged in series so that when the tail light and speedometer light are on, the car is lit up.

Naturally, keen interest was aroused in the new two-speed direct drive rear axle. The shifts are made easily by operating a small lever on the right door of the car, and are executed without the least exertion. The motor is similar to that of the Cadillac.

The running boards are now cleared of the battery and tool boxes, and the entire body of the car is two and one-half inches lower than the old model.

Tom Lee and his brother, heads of the Cadillac car interests in the west, were in the city yesterday.

They left last night for Los Angeles and Frasier started for San Francisco, where he makes headquarters. Both of the chiefs were on hand to witness the arrival of the new 1914 Cadillac car in Oakland.

BIG INSURANCE COMPANY

RECOVERS STOLEN AUTO

The story is of how opportunity knocked hard on the door of a resident of Oakland in the shape of a neat reward for a stolen auto and also the possibility that the same opportunity is yet knocking at the doors of Alameda county residents.

It is told by Joe Chirardelli of the Fireman's Fund Insurance company, Chirardelli, who is the Alameda county representative of the automobile insurance department of the Fireman's Fund, has been on the lookout for automobiles that have been stolen.

Chirardelli sent out posters offering rewards for the recovery of stolen autos, but no trace of certain machines did he get, until Monday a tip was handed him by a certain repair man that parts of a car with the serial numbers filed off were offered to him for sale.

So a hunt started with the serial numbers and to Chirardelli's capture he sent out posters offering rewards for the recovery of stolen autos, but no trace of certain machines did he get, until Monday a tip was handed him by a certain repair man that parts of a car with the serial numbers filed off were offered to him for sale.

The last auto was stored away peacefully enough in a private garage in Oakland. The thieves, it seems, would watch the papers for advertisements of garages to be sold by the payment of a commission.

sum would secure the place in which to store the first car they laid hands upon. never think of looking into the private garages of well known people for stolen autos. Just how many Oaklanders have stolen cars in garages they have rented to strangers is the question that is worrying Chirardelli now. He has rewards out for more stolen cars and he wants to restore them to their owners. So take a tip and if you have stored a garage or a thorough inquiry as to which makes would best stand up under the grilling highway conditions involved.

BANDS HOLD UP SPEEDING TRAIN

Clerks Are Handcuffed and All Registered Mail Is Taken by Outlaws

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 6.—The mail car on the fast Louisville and Nashville passenger train No. 4, north bound from New Orleans, was boarded and robbed early last night by two unknown white men, who held up the mail clerks.

All the registered mail was taken, but no estimate could be made last night of the amount obtained.

The train reached Birmingham on time at 5:37 o'clock and two of the mail clerks, George Hoover and E. G. York, were found handcuffed together in such a way that the train had to be held from their wrists.

The thumbs of Chief Clerk Harry Everett were securely bound together with heavy twine.

The robbers boarded the mail car at Calera, 23 miles from here, on the side opposite the station, as the train began to move. The clerks said they immediately were covered with revolvers and ordered to turn their faces to the wall.

Everett looked around once and was fired upon, the bullet just missing his head.

When the engineer stopped for the southern crossing at Fourteen Street, Birmingham, he chanced to look back and saw the two men jump from the mail car door. This aroused his suspicions, and an investigation revealed the handcuffed clerks.

Every police station was notified and automobiles with detectives started out in search of the robbers.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

AT HOTEL SHATTUCK

The regular meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow evening in the Hotel Shattuck, Berkeley. The change in the location of the meeting place was decided because the organization is a county one rather than one distinctly Oakland in character, and frequent shifts in meeting places will be one of the means in drawing the cities of the county closer together. The next meeting will perhaps be called in Hayward.

Mayor Charles D. Harwood of the University City will address the delegation on the subject of West Berkeley as a manufacturing center and Fred W. Foss, county supervisor, will read a paper on the harbor. Other addresses will be on the program and informal discussion will mark the evening.

STRIKEBREAKER OF NOTE

DECLARED NEAR DEATH

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. — James Farley, known from one end of the country to the other as the most daring and successful leader of strike breakers, is very ill at the Astor Hotel, and, according to reports, is dying from complications of diseases that have made him an invalid for some time past.

Farley, who was born in Malone, N. Y., and is about 39 years of age, began his career as leader of strike breakers in 1905, and during the ten years that followed fought strikes all over the country. When he virtually retired from the line of work in 1905, Farley stated that his books would show that he had, at various times, employed over 40,000 men. He was employed to break the street car strike in San Francisco.

FORBIDDEN TO CUT MARSH DYKE

Dredger Company Not Allowed to Endanger Alameda Sewer With Slickens

ALAMEDA, Aug. 6.—The San Francisco bridge company and the Pacific Improvement company were forbidden by the city council last night to cut the dyke just to the south of west Eastie avenue and let the waters flow through south of the dyke. This action was taken by the council in response to a complaint from the city engineer.

The north side sewer through flowing into breaks in the dyke.

The bridge company is dredging in the harbor and cutting the dyke in front of the Pacific Improvement company, south of the dyke.

The construction of a culvert is suggested as a substitute for cutting the dyke and the culvert matter was referred by the council last night to the street committee and the superintendent of streets.

The electrician reported that the 47 electric wires had been pulled from the sewer.

The electrician also reported that the overhead wires were cut by the new underground ordinance voted by the people makes it necessary to secure permission from the city engineer to cut overhead wires run.

As the underground ordinance was prohibitive to cut, it is not being enforced.

Director James Shaw of the board of education was allowed a leave of absence.

The annual report of Superintendent of Playgrounds J. G. Outland was filed. Applications for playground positions were made by C. James Thiele, Miss Anna Egan, Miss Virginia, Miss Edna Curtis of Alameda and Miss Gladys Carpenter of Oakland.

The applications were referred to the new recreation commission after the board of education had a meeting with the information that the playground was the recreation commission.

Mayor Otis announced the following citizens members of the harbor commission, who were confirmed by the council: L. N. Chapman, Henry K. George, E. Plummer, Carl E. Bledin and Captain Walter Thiele.

BATH PAVILION IS GIVEN BOOST

Council Takes Steps to Devise Ways and Means of Building Tank

ALAMEDA, Aug. 6.—The proposed bath pavilion at the city park was again up for discussion at the meeting of the city council last night.

Much discussion was had on the subject. Mayor Frank Otis recommended that everyone commence at once to look for the project by tearing down the old bath pavilion.

The thousands of gallons of hot water in the bath pavilion are being used for the chamber of commerce.

The chamber of commerce, president of the city, was called upon by Mayor Otis to give his views of the proposed improvement.

Rosenblatt stated that he could only reiterate the assertions made heretofore, that the bath pavilion would be the greatest single feature that could be devised for Alameda.

"We absolutely have to take Alameda out of the isolation that she has been in for a number of years," he said.

He stated that the chamber of commerce was not affiliated with the Tourist association and of the inability of the city to build the bath pavilion.

STATION STOPS AND TRANSFERS

Alameda City Council Talks of Half Fare, Transfers and Tickets

ALAMEDA, Aug. 6.—Railroad matters and complaints against the Southern Pacific Company's service and that of the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal Railway Company were discussed at length in the meeting of the city council last night.

The chief complaints brought forth were that relative to the delay in commencing the operation of the station and that relative to the schedules and arrangements adopted by the Southern Pacific Company in the west.

Councilman E. J. Probst announced that while the S. P. company had extended the regular train service from Lincoln avenue, west of Market station, the company is refusing to stop at Third street station.

He also again brought up the matter of the refusal of the company to accept the half fare and transfer law.

Another complaint was the matter of the west end is that although the loop service has been extended west, the company refuses to give transfers to passengers traveling from the west end and returning from crossing to Oakland, exacting another fare.

Complaints from residents of the east end were to the effect that their district is discriminated against, "as much as a full fare is exacted from passengers bound to Lincoln park station and other points."

After considerable discussion the city attorney was instructed to ascertain whether the power to regulate the amount of urban fare is within the power of the city or the state railroad commission to regulate.

With regard to the attitude of the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal railway towards the granting of half fare to school children, and following the opinion of the city attorney, in which that official holds that the ordinance is constitutional, the attorney was instructed to take the matter up with the company in an endeavor to have an amicable compliance with the terms of the ordinance.

Walter Murphy and Leo Robinson spoke in support of the ordinance.

MRS ALLEN NOW ON COMMISSION

Named by Alameda Council on Parks and Playgrounds Board

ALAMEDA, August 6.—Mrs. Ellen Allen was named by the city council last night as the first appointed member of the new recreation commission which is in charge of the Alameda parks and playgrounds.

There is still a second woman to be named, a fact of the party, had been named for political purposes.

She has written extensively on problems allied to parks and playgrounds, settlement work, equal suffrage and similar topics. She is a member of the Alameda chapter, C. I. O. and has an unusually large number of friends and admirers.

Her appointment is certain to give very general satisfaction.

Mrs. Allen was a candidate for councilman-at-large upon the Socialist ticket last April and her campaign was one of the surprises of the election.

It is generally believed that had she not been handicapped by her party affiliation, she would have been elected.

Mrs. Allen is not a Socialist beyond accepting and being in sympathy with many of the Socialist principles. She accepted after election, that the Socialists, or at least a faction of the party, had betrayed her for political purposes.

She has written extensively on problems allied to parks and playgrounds, settlement work, equal suffrage and similar topics. She is a member of the Alameda chapter, C. I. O. and has an unusually large number of friends and admirers.

Her appointment is certain to give very general satisfaction.

E. O. TUTTLE TO BE DEPUTY ASSESSOR

ALAMEDA, Aug. 6.—Emery O. Tuttle of this city has been appointed a deputy to the office of County Assessor C. F. Horner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas T. Stoddard.

Stoddard expected to take possession of the office today but was delayed by a train from the east. A delay in his arrival caused the eastern mail to be several hours late and the rambling conduct of the eastern mail, which is again on strike, caused a further delay.

By the time the train finally arrived with Stoddard's commission the shades of night were falling so the new postmaster put off until today taking possession of the office. He is the only Democratic postmaster this city has ever had.

CLUB ASKS FOR BETTER SERVICE

West End Improvers Want More Cars on the University Ave. Line

BERKELEY, Aug. 6.—The city council was in receipt today of a communication from the West End Improvers' club asking for better service on the University Avenue line.

The club also requests the council to take up with the company the granting of universal transfers and the need of lining the roadways of all lines in the city.

The club further asks that the company be required to switch its switching arrangements at San Pablo and University avenues to have cars on the line at 10:00 a. m. and 10:00 p. m.

At the University Avenue line, a block away toward Addison street, regarding the University service the communication says:

"The service on the University Avenue line is in keeping with some rural country village is self evident. The so-called seven or ten minutes in the day and time and the fifteen minutes at night is indeed farcical. As a matter of fact the service during the day is sometimes 15 to 20 minutes and at night from 15 to 20 minutes."

"The result of having such a few cars to care for the traffic is dangerous for this reason. The conductor is forced to make up time, owing to the pay as you enter cars, they do not drive passengers sufficient time to get aboard the car. It is a common thing to see women hanging onto the bar and the step of a car and at the same time the danger of being run over by the conductor is right at the spot and able to see."

TEACHER'S DEMAND FOR BACK PAY IS REFUSED

BERKELEY, August 6.—A four-year-old plea for back salary, presented to the school board last evening by Miss Edith C. Bailey, a teacher at the Lincoln school, failed of recognition by the board.

The demand being unique but in the opinion of the directors, too aged for granting.

The board has a regulation that teachers shall receive pay according to their experience, teaching in outside schools being reckoned as half their city salary.

Miss Bailey came to the local department with two years and eight months to her credit in country schools, but the eight months was not considered in arranging her standing, and her salary suffered in consequence to the extent of $1100.

The teacher has been in the schools since 1926.

Edwin Downie Crushed Beneath Electric Train at Pacific Ave. Crossing

ALAMEDA, August 6.—Edwin Downie, a 19-year-old youth, was instantly killed by an Alameda electric train at Pacific avenue junction, last night about 6:30 o'clock.

The boy was crossing the track, wheeling a wheelbarrow and paid no heed to the advancing train, despite the warnings given by Motorman John Macaulay.

The train was stopped and the mangled body of the youth was placed aboard and brought to the Alameda branch morgue. The inquest will be held next Wednesday morning.

The body was taken then to Agriculture Hall and finally to the Greek Theatre. KINDERGARTENS TO HAVE WOMEN'S AID

Provisions for Primary Classes to Be Incorporated in Berkeley Budget

BERKELEY, August 6.—The Berkeley school department budget, which Superintendent Morris C. James was authorized by the Board of Education last evening to present to the county superintendent next week, will show a need of $54,000, with an addition for kindergarten purposes which James was authorized to make.

The board expressed its intention last evening of making every effort to establish the kindergartens projected for the Lincoln, Longfellow and Whittier schools, though the new kindergarten law would not be of effect in time this year to permit making a request of the supervisors for funds if it were made mandatory upon that board to grant.

The necessary funds will be made on item of the regular budget and efforts will be made to insure its retention when the budget is passed by the supervisors.

A delegation from the Berkeley Federation of Mothers' Clubs promised the board to use all its efforts to persuade the supervisors to pass the budget intact.

Comptroller was directed to the James Iron Works for free scrapes at three schools at the following cost: Jefferson, $425; Hawthorne, $445; Oxford, $375.

Annual training awards in both high and grammar schools were left to the discretion of the supplies committee.

PEACE IS RESTORED IN WHEATLAND HOP FIELDS

BATTLE WITH COYOTE IN GARDEN

Fierce Animal Strayed From Hills, Captured in Fruitvale

Grounds of Society Leader Scene of Struggle With Wild Beast

FRUITVALE, Aug. 6.—A coyote, as large as a collie dog, ranging down from the hills in the early hours of yesterday morning ran amuck in Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street where a posse of constables and citizens, with the help of about twenty dogs, tried to capture it.

After a fierce fight in which a number of the dogs were badly wounded, and two of the pursuers were forced to take to trees to escape the fangs of the maddened animal, the coyote was finally lassoed by Joseph Laveria, a cowboy. The conflict between the coyote and its pursuers extended over several blocks in Fruitvale avenue, and ended in the grounds of Mrs. Henry Wetherbee at the corner of Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street. The fight might have continued much longer had not the coyote become edged in between the posts of a fence, allowing Laveria to get within range with his lasso before the animal was enabled to force itself loose from the fence. Laveria swung his lasso adroitly around the coyote's head, and then tied the snapping beast to a tree in the Wetherbee grounds.

The coyote was first noticed slouching along in Fruitvale avenue, just as daylight broke. Pedestrians took the strange animal for a dog, and the first warning the coyote gave of its identity was when an inquisitive dog approached. Next the dog retreated to the accompaniment of howls, and with a torn flank, the work of the coyote's fangs.

COYOTE LEAPS FENCE.

As day broke the coyote must have realized that its strange pursuers were fraught with danger, and leaping a fence it took refuge in the Wetherbee grounds, where it was discovered by Frank Souza, one of the employees of the place. Souza set a pack of dogs on the coyote, but the wanderer fought them off. Several of the dogs which approached too close received a mauling and were afraid to come to close quarters with the plucky enemy.

Meanwhile members of the Fruitvale postoffice staff and Constable Carroll joined in the chase, and the hunt continued in full cry. Back and forth in the grounds the coyote led its pursuers, and one man who approached with a bamboo pole to strike the animal had to take refuge in a tree, to escape the desperate rush of the cornered animal. Laveria, a cowboy, who came on the scene, joined in the chase, and watched for an opportunity to capture the coyote with his lasso. The chance came as the animal attempted to break its way through a fence. Laveria managed to break loose. Laveria had sufficient time to drop the lariat over the head of the animal. The coyote, still snapping defiantly, was secured in a cage.

SEEKING FOOD.

It is supposed that the coyote, which was a particularly large specimen, had wandered down from the hills in the early hours of the morning in search for food, and had become bewildered. The fact that none were about in the early hours probably accounted for the fact that the coyote had made its way as far along as East Fourteenth street without interference.

Irate Father Closes Door Wedding Held at Sister's

W. A. Gates Objects to Prospective Son-in-Law

BERKELEY, Aug. 6.—Far from the home of her father, Sacramento, W. A. Gates, who refused her his home for her wedding, Mrs. Joseph James Beteran is speeding today with her husband in an automobile southward to Los Angeles on her honeymoon. Her wedding to Beteran took place last evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. T. Herrick.

As Miss Florence Gates Mrs. Beteran was prominent in the younger Berkeley set among the graduates of Berkeley High school where she finished her studies with the class of 1911. Beteran formerly lived in San Mateo and is a leading member there of the Native Sons' lodge.

Gates objected, for some reason, most strenuously to his prospective son-in-law, whom his daughter met a year ago at the home of mutual friends at Richmond. Against the obstacle of parental objection, however, their romance grew and recently blossomed into an engagement announcement. Then Gates made his last stand, refusing to permit the wedding to take place in his own home at 214 Grove street.

The hospitable doors of Mrs. Herrick's home opened to her sister as the door of her father's closed, and at Mrs. Herrick's wedding took place last evening, performed quietly before a group of friends by Rev. R. S. Eastman, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church. Following the wedding the young couple left for a tour of the state by automobile.

MAY WED TO FOIL MINIONS OF LAW

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—As the sequel to the announcement by United States immigration officials here that they would proceed against Charles Victor Hall, millionaire oil operator of this city in connection with the alleged illegal residence of Marie Rita Seutans, a Parisian dancer girl, it is being known today that Hall and Mrs. Seutans planned to wed before divorcing their whereabouts.

Since the sensational trial of Mrs. Hall's divorce suit several months ago, in which Miss Seutans who appeared as Hall's ward, was named by the wife of the oil magnate, the government's agents have been investigating the status of Miss Seutans' residence in the United States. It was disclosed during the divorce proceedings that Hall had entered into an agreement with Miss Seutans' mother to provide a home for the girl in this country.

Shortly after the conclusion of the divorce trial in which Mrs. Hall was granted an interlocutory decree, Hall and his young ward left the city. Hall's attorney, E. A. Meserve, refused today to reveal the whereabouts of his clients, but affirmed they would be married before returning to Los Angeles and would then be in a position to laugh at any attempt to deport the former flower girl.

Immigration officials said their investigation of the case, which extended to Florida, had just been completed.

Wilson's Policy Is Weak, Says Johnson

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—"One word from Theodore Roosevelt is worth an army under Woodrow Wilson," declared Governor Johnson in describing the foreign policy of the administration in a speech here last night. The governor was applauded by more than 500 Progressives who attended the first anniversary dinner of the party's birth.

In general, the governor referred to the present foreign policy as "weak and vacillating." He also said that the "whitewashing of Ballinger" differed in no essential from the "whitewashing of McVeighs." He summed up the administration by saying that it had "not come up to expectations of those who wished it well."

Ormsby McHarg Says Moosers and Republicans Should Unite

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Ormsby McHarg came here from New York today to discuss with Republican and Progressive leaders plans for the reunion of the two parties at a monster dinner which it is proposed to be held in this city early during the coming winter.

"The time is at hand when the Republicans and Bull Moosers must unite in common defense against the Democratic party," said McHarg. "We bow have the opportunity to capitalize the mistakes of the present administration and this dinner has been proposed as a method of preparing for the union. This should not prove difficult. Both Republicans and Progressives have been influenced for a generation by the same political thought. The progressive movement was not palatial."

Mr. McHarg introduced Secretary Bryan of having introduced populism into the government, and charged that President Wilson had broken faith with the people in urging consideration of both the tariff bill and the currency bill at the same session of Congress.

"Theodore Roosevelt is called a radical in politics, but that is a misstatement," McHarg added. "He is as conservative as any one in national business matters. It is only in personal matters, in things that directly touch society, that he is radical."

NO, HE NEVER SWALLOWED A DRINK, CUSSED AS THIS 'CUS

Police Sergeant William Woods is proud of his erudition, but it was not appreciated few nights ago. Now Woods is seeking some new means for impressing on "drunks" the enormity of their offense.

Woods is possessed of a wide knowledge of literature, a profuse stock of classical allusions and an impressive manner in reciting them. Many a poor drunk has lined up before the sergeant's desk at night to be completely flabbergasted by the store of erudition heard, but not understood.

Woods' words have been found. Several nights ago a particularly flagrant case of homo intoxicatus appeared at the desk. He smiled feebly and swayed as Bill McKegan supported him before the desk of justice. Woods fixed his glaring eye on the victim. The smile broadened.

"You're man?" thundered the sergeant, "have you ever read the seventh chapter of Leviticus?"

The drunk smiled the more. He swayed slightly as the long word impressed itself on his ear drums, and spoke.

"Well, sergeant," he said, "I—drunk whisky, an' I drunk cocktails, an' I drunk gin, an'—an'—" his voice trailed off as he meditated.

"Well?" shouted the sergeant. "What are you saying?"

"But I never drunk none o' that Leviticus dope!" triumphantly announced the drunk.

"Put him in the noose-gow!" shouted the sergeant. "What's the use, anyway?"

CHICO, CAL., Aug. 6.—A new aspect is being given to the wheatland strike by a story told here last night by Henry Daken of Marysville, a game warden, who says he was in the melée and says that it was he who fired the first shot.

Describing the beginning of the shooting, Daken said that Scott, who approached a platform occupied by a speaker, an industrial worker of the world. While the speaker was trying to make the man stop talking, Daken says, the platform gave way and in the resulting confusion a crowd surged about the speaker with the evident purpose of seizing him.

Daken said it was then that he fired, into the air, and he discharged the shot to intimidate the workmen. His effort was partly successful, he said, and a number fell back, but the negro who was conspicuous in the affray, started for Voss with upraised revolver. Daken said he then fired point blank at the negro and killed him. It was after this, he said, that Voss was beaten and Reardon was killed.

The Fat Man Wanted to Know Why Teams Weren't Matched

By BILLY FITZ.

Glasses came out of Recreation Park yesterday afternoon about 4:45 and remarked to his companion, "I should think that they would play two teams from the same league; wouldn't it make things, er—more interest—"

And then the companion of the fat man explained that the Oakland club belonged to the same league as Los Angeles; that it won the pennant last year, and that the last time the two teams met Oakland won five out of the seven games.

"You don't tell me," gasped the fat man. "Well, baseball is a queer game. Gimme golf."

Actually, only one team played at Recreation park and that team represented the city of Oakland and the city of Los Angeles. The Oakland club had no more chance yesterday than a cake of ice in a hammock bath. The solemn faced Charles, who was master of ceremonies and on the job every minute. Assisted by Ivan the Terrible, Mike Wotell, and Harry Magart, the honorable Mr. Charles made us sit down, roll over and jump through.

In vain, the Oaks sacrificed Zeke Lechman, Harry Ables and Louis Drake on the altar of American amateurism. They made rattling good fuel and that's about all. Cook flailed the ball twice, and dropped it as he went to throw. Next he pitched and threw the ball twice, and dropped it as he went to throw. Next he pitched and threw the ball twice, and dropped it as he went to throw.

Garnett Bush, the human June bug, was on duty again. It was a very chastened June bug, melodious of voice and serene of temper, and sound of on his shoulder, he no longer advertised the fact. Nor a wamper was raised against his decisions. On the other hand, his companion in crime, Bill Graham, exhibited one very serious fault in an umpire. It is not one that is noteworthy, but it is a fault that is noteworthy. It is not one that is noteworthy, but it is a fault that is noteworthy.

The frejolas were spilled in the very first inning, after two were down. Moore and Magart, however, the two just over Lobman's head and then Brother Ivan spiked the averaging signs on right field.

Al Mohr, a member of the Moor two who play with the Twenty-third avenue Merchants, was out in uniform with the Oaks. He was a member of the Oaks, a member of the Oaks, a member of the Oaks. He was a member of the Oaks, a member of the Oaks, a member of the Oaks.

McCredie pulled a novel stunt yesterday and got away with it. He used two of his pitchers as pinch hitters and they won the game for him. Harry Krause batted for Deane in the eighth and singled, and then Higginbotham batted for Turner and singled.

The Pittsburgh Pirates put an end to Rube Marquand's winning streak by hammering him out of the box in the third. The victory of the Phillies ended the streak.

What to Do When Troubled With 'Stitch' in the Side

(By C. H. TOOEZ, Assistant Physical Director, Oakland A. C. A.)

ANY amateur with training and a good deal of experience in running will be able to develop his own style, keeping the feet straight to the front. If you are a beginner, however, you will find it difficult to do this. The best way to develop your own style is to keep the feet straight to the front. If you are a beginner, however, you will find it difficult to do this.

Now We Know What's the matter With Oak Pitchers

PITTSBURGH, Miss. Aug. 6.—William I. Smith of the Pittsburgh Eastern Association baseball club, who took an injured arm out of spunk Monday, pitched a no-hit game against Waterbury yesterday. Smith pitched for 3 1/2 hours, and did not give a pass and struck out six men. Only three Waterbury players saw first, all on errors. Smith came here from the Memphis club of the Southern League.

Baseball Problems and Their Answers

To the Sporting Editor: Runners on base and that is the trouble with the Oakland and Waterbury game. The Oakland pitcher, William I. Smith, pitched a no-hit game against Waterbury yesterday. Smith pitched for 3 1/2 hours, and did not give a pass and struck out six men. Only three Waterbury players saw first, all on errors. Smith came here from the Memphis club of the Southern League.

To the Sporting Editor: Men on first and second, batter hits to pitcher, who throws wild to first and batter goes to second. The pitcher then throws to first and the batter is out. This is a common occurrence in baseball.

To the Sporting Editor: Is it against the rules to pitch a ball in the end of a bat to reduce a runner? Rule 15 says that must be entirely of hard wood and it is not permitted that it be a corked and stuffed with any substance.

To the Sporting Editor: Does Frank Owens, now with Minneapolis, come from Toronto? Our record shows him born in Toronto in 1886 and that city is given as his home. Frank Owens, who is now with Minneapolis, came from Toronto.

To the Sporting Editor: Would a passed ball be considered the same as a wild pitch? A passed ball is when the pitcher throws the ball so that it goes between the catcher and the first baseman. A wild pitch is when the pitcher throws the ball so that it goes into the outfield.

To the Sporting Editor: While attempting third strike ball glanced off the catcher's mitt and the batter declared it a foul ball, but opposing captain protests that batter is out under Section 7 of rule 51; which is correct? It is correct that the batter is out.

ODDS ON MIDDLEWEIGHT BATTLE EXPECTED TO BECOME EVEN

Azavedo and McFarland Prepare for Coming Bout; Other Arena Gossip

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

A lightweight champion—

place at Vancouver, British Columbia, Champion Willie Ritchie yesterday afternoon wiring his acceptance of the terms offered by Hugh Springer and Chet McIntyre, the northern promoters. Fred-pion, will be Ritchie's opponent, and the affair will take place on Monday afternoon, September 1, in the Brighthouse arena, an open-air structure with a seating capacity of 7000. Ritchie will receive $15,000 for his "bit" and 50 per cent of the motion pictures and the privilege of taking 50 per cent of the house receipts.

So little has resulted in arranging the bout that the public has hardly had time to realize the matter as a reality. Ritchie is very anxious to get into the ring with Willie, and the weight and referee questions are not expected to interfere very seriously in the final consummation of articles. Welsh states that the weight is immaterial to him, and Ritchie can suit himself in this regard.

If Willie gets through the program he has now set for his coming fight, the Ritchie encounter will assume very proportions. Willie, following his bout with W. S. H. plans to run over across the country to New York, where he will meet Leach Cross in the first round of a ten-round fight. Ritchie will meet Leach Cross in the first round of a ten-round fight.

Joe Azavedo and Tommy McFarland, principals in the 10-round main event of the West Oakland Athletic Club, are gradually rounding out into form for their meeting on the evening of the 12th of this month.

Both Azavedo and McFarland are popular among the local boxing fraternity, previous performances showing their willingness to mix it, no matter how wrong the going. Since his recent defeat by Frankie Burns in 10 rounds, Azavedo has been dodged by all of the men about the bay, and he should make things mighty interesting for Tommy. McFarland has participated in some 50 combats, and in the majority of instances emerged with the long end of the purse. McFarland and Azavedo have met once before, the previous result being a decision in favor of the latter.

The other events, as arranged by Mitchell Tomlin, Simpson, give promise of some real bang-up milling. There are as follows:

Six-round bouts between Johnny McCarthy and Clarence English; Henry Hickey and Carl Gaubatz; Frankie Jones and "Pete" Thomas of Oakland, and a four-round curtain-raiser between Jack Paul and Frank Waldorf.

Manuel Viera got a 10-round decision over Freddy Hamann in the Harvard Athletic Club show last night. Racehorse Munzo stopped Dutch Larsen in the third round, and Young Rogers got a decision over Fighting Smiley in four rounds.

Betting on the McAllister-Petroskey 20-round go in San Francisco on Friday night is unusually brisk. The former Olympic clubman still rules a favorite by a 10 to 9 margin, but the manner in which Petroskey supporters are backing their man it is not unlikely that the odds will bring up even. From performances at the two training camps, it appears as if we were going to be treated to some real interesting milling. McAllister has speed, and although his punches do not do much damage, it is expected that by constant pecking away at Petroskey he will put out the ex-sailor before the time limit expires. Petroskey is showing a marked improvement and his punches carry a lot of steam.

'The Best Play I Ever Saw'

Oakland, Cal., August 2, 1913. SPORTING EDITOR TRIBUNE—The greatest play I ever saw took place back in Boston in 1894. The game was between the "Beaneaters" and "Oracles." At that time the Baltimore were the champions, having won the National League pennant three years consecutively—'90, '91 and '92.

During those years the Bostonians had been kept contenders, and always gave the "Oracles" a hard fight.

The Baltimore had a scrappy infield composed of Dore, Reitz, Jennings and McGraw; the Boston infield of Tenney, Lowe, Long and Collins were thought by many to be the greatest fielding infield of all time.

The game in question took place in August, 1894, and owing to the intense heat was postponed until the 11th of September. It was an airtight pitching duel between Joe Corbett (Baltimore) and "Kild" Nichols, for Boston. Each team had scored 2 runs in the early part of the game, but after the fifth inning not another run went over for either team.

Starting the first of the twelfth, Nichols walked the first man up, who was promptly sacrificed to second, leaving a man on second and one down. Here Nichols grew wild and "beamed" the next batter. With runners on first and second the next batter up—Muggsy McGraw—bullet-like speed directly over second base. Long, the Boston shortstop, started for the ball with all the speed he could command, and when within almost reach

This is a picture of Sailor Ed Petroskey, who used to be a naval baker of Yerba Buena Island. He has just received an honorable discharge from the navy and thinks there is more money to be found in the ring than on a warship. Many Track Stars Retire While Still in Good Form

Retiring from track and field athletics under winning championship banners has become a custom in this country since the Olympic championships were held at Stockholm last summer. First it was Ralph C. Craig, the hero of the two springing events at the Swedish capital, who vowed that he was through with the spike shoes. His example was followed by many of the other men who gained victories in their respective contests, including Charlie Reichardt and Harry Babcock, the 400 metre and pole vault champions.

Both of these athletes, the Craig, had several years more of high-class competition within their frames. Reichardt and Craig felt it necessary to retire, however, because of business engagements. Babcock preferred taking up rowing, at which he has proved himself to be an expert. Being a member of the New York Athletic Club, he signed an agreement with that club to row in the Harlem river Memorial Day, and won the senior eight-oared shell event on the Charles river July 4.

There are only a few of the champions who quit in the heyday of their glory. Martin J. Sheridan a few years ago took one of the first of the country's star athletes to the top of much weight, which made him slow at his specialty of tossing the discus. It was thought with Sheridan abandoning athletics that this country would be without a discus thrower. However, the advancement which had been made in all departments of athletics also marked Sheridan's special course.

After Sheridan, Thorpe loomed up. His confession of having been a professional when making records not only caused his wonderful figures in all-around competition to be erased from the record book, but put a blur on amateur athletics of this country. The incident, however, was taken with good grace and hearty good will. The coming to the front of Fred C. Thomson, the Californian, who while at Princeton a few weeks ago and at Los Angeles recently accomplished records in all-around competition that were better than those of Sheridan and Thorpe, has shown to the world that within the amateur ranks there is an athlete superior to the Indian.

The giving up of competition by John Paul Jones, the Cornell world's record-holder for a mile, caused regret for it was the best of those closely identified with track athletics that Jones was capable of bettering his mark of 4 minutes 15.5 seconds. Jones made a wonderful record at a college athlete. His experience was confined to his college activity rather than to any athletic club. The Cornell man was a wonder, able to run a half-mile in 1 minute 53 and a half seconds in record-breaking form.

Norman S. Tabor, the Brown university man who won every mile race he competed in outdoors the year, with the exception of the intercollegiate mile, which included the A. A. U. mile championship, has decided that he will not do any more of them. He has shown his best form. It is believed that he is possessed of greater speed, and that he will show the Englishmen a better burst of speed than that which he brought him home a victor in the Swedish Olympic 1000-metre event, which found Jackson first at the finish.

With the going out of so many champions, A. J. Gutterston, the Boston Athletic Association man, whose performance at the Stockholm games last summer in the running broad jump was wonderful, also has thrown aside his shoes.

It, seeing he couldn't get his hands on it, stuck out his left foot as far as he could reach. The ball struck the toe of his shoe and caromed straight up in the air. Long, however, the 6' 2" and 220 lb. man, who in turn threw to Tenney on first, completing a double play and retiring the side and saving the game for Boston.

Joe Corbett held Boston safe in the last half of the game was called at the end of the twelfth, owing to darkness. Long's great play saved Boston a defeat, and the game ended in a tie.

PASSING OF 'SILVER BILL' RILEY MOURNED BY SPORTING WORLD

Lent Fortune to friends and Died Almost Penniless in Chicago

Despite the fact that during his lifetime he had handled probably more money than any other living sportsman, "Silver Bill" Riley, who died recently in Chicago to the sporting world from the decline of the Atlantic ocean and thousands of sportsmen are mourning his death. Riley was a character, and was known throughout the entire United States as a "character" in five degrees. I have seen his money and lent freely and without stint. "If you could collect what Riley lent to friends in the cars when he was flush you would have enough to erect a monument over his grave and as big as the Eiffel tower," said an old-time sportsman man today who knew Bill dined him when he was a bookmaker.

"I do not know any sportsman ever asked 'Silver Bill' for a dollar in vain. He would first look him over and then say, 'I guess you need it, old man, or you wouldn't ask.' He has loaned money and he has loaned it in five degrees. I have seen his gamblers go to 'Silver Bill' and get $20,000 in a chuck. They were stuck against the bank and had to get out. Sometimes they didn't. Sometimes they paid Bill back and sometimes they didn't. I have heard it said that Riley never asked a man to return a loan. His belief was that a gambler who owed him would pay it when he got it. If he never got it he figured the borrower wouldn't have the nerve to ask for the second loan, so it was the deal he used in placing men where they belonged in his credit column."

"One thing Bill did in his better days, and a thing of which he often spoke, was that of placing of $100,000 where it would go toward the keeping of his wife in her old age and it was fixed in such a way that he could not get it. She is now living somewhere in New York State. They had not been living together for some years."

WOULD TAKE ANY BET. Bill sprang into fame in the late '70s, when he owed his reputation to his position as what was then known as gambler's alibi, just north of Madison street and running west from State street, Chicago. In this place no minors were allowed, no man was permitted to smoke cigars, there was no card playing, no faro, but any kind of a bet upon horse race, athletic events or national elections was "covered" without a moment's hesitation.

When he was elected alibi for the presidential more than a quarter of a million in bets placed in "Silver Bill's" safe. The presidential race decision was held in his safe. The colonial's reputation was sent him home. That night a report was circulated that "Silver Bill" had shipped "himself" to the States. The gamblers laughed at the idea. There was no "rum" in his safe. Not a single man waited at the door the next morning for his money. Every bet was paid.

GENEROSITY HIS GREAT FAULT. Riley was slight of figure, with deep black eyes and heavy snow white hair and mustache that gave him his title of Silver Bill. He was the wit of gamblers' alley. His repute was as speedy as a fast horse. His generosity was his great fault.

"Silver Bill" was born in Brooklyn and as a boy was a camp follower of the union army. Late in the '60s he landed in San Francisco with his money and a wife who had a watch. Both were hungry. But they saw a hungry man, a "down and out" miner, barefooted, raggedly clothed and so completely and heartily overgrown with red hair that he looked like a fresh "Wild Man of Ceylon." The price was paid and Riley left the town ten days later just as the "wild man" did.

"Silver Bill" had risen through every rank of the King's of Pythias. In the uniform rank he gained his title. He was a member of De Molay lodge No. 18 of Chicago. He also was a member of New York lodge No. 1, B. P. O. E. During the last few years Riley has "made books" on eastern and southern trotting circuits. He operated at Juarez, Mexico. He also was a member of the "Wild Man of Ceylon." The price was paid and Riley left the town ten days later just as the "wild man" did.

VANDERBILT'S LIFE
SAVED BY ACT

Tried to Protect Woman's Gown, and Avoided
Disaster

LONG BEACH, N. Y., Aug. 5.—That William K. Vanderbilt Jr. had a narrow escape from death in the automobile accident that claimed the lives of S. Osgood Pell and William Laimbeer, because of the fact that he wished to protect a Parisian gown worn by Mrs. Pell, became known for the first time yesterday when he testified at the inquest held into the disaster in which the two wealthy men and their chauffeur perished.

Vanderbilt would have been in the machine that was struck by a Long Island train Sunday night had he not stopped to secure a linen duster with which to cover Mrs. Pell's gown.

The rest of the party went on with-another car and followed. They were so close behind that they almost saw the disaster.

Vanderbilt broke down when testifying before the Public Service Commission at the hearing, which brought out some surprising testimony.

Anson B. Smith, a flagman at Jekyll-Hyde crossing, the one next below that where the accident occurred, said that he had a red lamp in his own judgment in regard to warning vehicles of approaching trains, his must have been on the car that was up one hand on the chance that the passengers in the automobile might see it by the glare of the train lamps.

Vanderbilt gave his testimony in a low voice.

"I had gone to Long Beach in my own car," he said, "I was with the Pell family and a friend, Richard Peters, and we had dinner at the Trouville."

"The Pell car started up and five minutes later I left. At Wreck Lead Crossing we came upon a blockade. There were a number of cars between me and the crossing."

"I knew to a certainty that Mr. Pell had been killed, but I could not think of any way to break the news to his widow out there in the automobile."

Vanderbilt's voice sank as he proceeded. "When we reached the Nassau Hotel we saw some people telephoning, and one mentioned the name 'Pell.' Then Mrs. Pell fainted."

OREGON STATE LABOR
LAW FOR WORKING GIRLS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 6.—The Oregon state labor industrial commission today fixed maximum hours of labor for all girls under 18 years of age at eight hours and twenty minutes a day or thirty hours a week; they may not work after 6 p. m. and all girls between the ages of 16 and 18 must receive a minimum of $1 per day except when arrangements have been made with the commission for employment in factories.

OREGON COMMISSION TO INSPECT SITE

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 6.—R. A. Booth, chairman of the Oregon Panama exposition commission, joined three other members of the commission on the Steamer Limited last night en route to San Francisco to view the site of the Oregon building. It is the purpose of the commission to determine upon the type of building as soon as the site has been inspected and to make an effort to have the Oregon building the first one to be erected.

Oregon has appropriated $175,000 to cover the expenses of the State exhibit.

PASSENGER LEAPS TO DEATH FROM STEAMER

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 5.—After having carefully removed from him clothing and personal articles by which he might be identified, a man on the steamer Bear leaped from that vessel in sight of the passengers as the Bear was pulling out for San Francisco this morning. The body was recovered. Word was wired back from the Bear at Astoria that the man had told a passenger his name was L. Law, and that he was from Salt Lake.

Set of six solid oak dining chairs full
box seat covered with real leather $18.00

These are not a finely finished, highly polished Chair, but a good, plain, well-built and good design; solid oak, fumed finish, full box seat, covered with real Spanish leather exactly as illustrated.

There are about 20 sets to be sold. When received they were found to be slightly imperfect, not enough to impair their value, but not up to the Jackson standard, so we offer them to close out at $18.00 the set of six.

Note You may have some piece of furniture that you do not need, or that is a little out of date that you would like to trade in for new. If so, we'll take it in part payment and allow all its worth—anything that is saleable with the exception of mattresses and bedding. Exchange department.

THIRD TIME IS LUCKY, HE SAYS

Bride and Groom Both Get Legacies After the Ceremony

When Mrs. S. Isaacson married Chris Christensen, 3950 Chestnut street, little did she realize the good luck awaiting her — although this was the third time that the holy bonds of matrimony had claimed her, and the third time is generally considered the charm.

The first marriage was to Fred Bryant, a Michigan man. He died. The second ceremony was performed a few months later to Sam Isaacson of Wisconsin — they were divorced. For the third time she ventured into the world of double blessedness, this time with Christensen. The marriage had only been consummated when news was brought to the bride that her first husband's sister, a Mrs. E. Bryant, had died, and as there were no other heirs than the new Mrs. Christensen, she will receive the whole estate, which amounts to $12,000.

A day later Christensen received notice that his parents, whom he had not visited for over 20 years, had passed away in Racine, Wis., leaving him a good sized fortune as sole heir.

"The third time was the charm," said Christensen this morning looking happily at his wife. "Of course, we're glad to get the money, but I would have felt the same way about the 'luck business' even if there had been no estates to help make our honeymoon brighter. I am a lucky man and as Mrs. Christensen graciously maintains that she is a lucky woman—I suppose that we will have to say that it is a lucky match altogether."

LANE INVESTIGATING
IRRIGATION PROJECT

TREAT FALLS, Mont., Aug. 5.—Although Secretary of the Interior Lane has not authorized any statement as to his decision regarding the furthering of work on the Sun river irrigation project, his remarks to the settlers at several public meetings held yesterday indicate a favorable attitude.

Accompanied by Governor S. V. Stewart and a score of business men, Mr. Lane spent the day in an automobile trip over the project and attending public gatherings of settlers at Simms, Fairview and Dutton. At the first two places the settlers were overwhelmingly favorable to irrigation, but the reverse was found at Dutton.

Secretary Lane announced his appointment of L. D. O'Connell of Billings as supervising farmer, a newly created office, to have direct charge of all completed projects in Montana, Idaho and the Dakotas.

The secretary will visit the existing Missouri river power plants and one under construction today, and will leave in the afternoon for Glacier Park.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS FOR SULZER UNDER FIRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Contributions to Governor Sulzer's campaign for election last fall were again under fire with the reorganization of the committee by the Frawley legislative committee, which has transferred its sittings from Albany. Interest was aroused in the session by the possibility that both Charles F. Murphy, the leader of Tammany Hall, and Governor Sulzer may appear as witnesses while the committee is sitting here.

LIGHTNING STRIKES
VINE; COOKS BEANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Beans, large with a delicacy that would suit the palate of an epicure, are being gathered straight from the vine at a truck garden near Washington.

William Williams possesses at Lanham, Md., a garden containing this "cooked bean vine." How the growing beans came to be cooked is thus related by Williams, so help him.

He was afraid the vines might be destroyed by storms if he allowed them to climb on ordinary poles. He planted several rows, each about a city square in length, and to guard against the blow-between them. Lightning struck the vines and cooked the beans. Williams and his family do the rest.

HUGE FRANCHISE TAX
WILL BE COLLECTED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 6.—Franchise taxes to be collected within the next two weeks by State Treasurer Roberts will amount to about $6,000,000. This will put the treasurer in a position to swell the fund of $4,000,000, already deposited with San Francisco also banks, very materially, which it is understood will be done if the banks secure the sale of the $3,000,000 worth of San Francisco harbor improvement bonds now on the market.

Many of the larger banks in San Francisco told the state treasurer when he called upon them recently in regard to the sale of the harbor improvement bonds that the outlook for their early sale was encouraging, and that they are using their best effort to secure bids for all, or a good portion of these bonds.

During State Treasurer Roberts' administration there has been no general call for funds of the state in the various banks in which they are deposited, and if the banks are at the time inclined to help the State there will be no call made for deposits until conditions become easier, when the state may have to use a portion of the funds now placed with the banks.
